Regular Army Officers Visit The Institute

A class of Ordnance Officers of the United States Army visited Textile on Friday, February 17, in order to see the various branches of engineering technology in actual operation. All the officers, with the exception of Dr. M. G. Yatsevitch, who is Electronic Physicist at the Watertown Arsenal, were members of the Ordnance School which is conducted at the Arsenal. The trip was arranged by D. J. Martin, 1st Lt. Ord. Dept., U. S. A. The personnel of the party consisted of 1st Lt. D. J. Martin of Massachusetts, Dr. M. G. Yatsevitch of Kiew, Russia, 1st Lt. I. H. Ritchie of Arkansas, 1st Lt. J. C. Raaen of Illinois, 1st Lt. R. K. Haskell of California, 1st Lt. E. C. Cummings of Michigan, 1st Lt. G. D. Withers of the District of Columbia, 1st Lt. D. W. Van Syckle of New Jersey, 2nd Lt. J. D. Billings of Virginia, 2nd Lt. J. C. Horridge of New York, 2nd Lt. L. W. Bell of Virginia, and 2nd Lt. G. D. Ludlam of Rhode Island.

The officers also visited the Tremont and Suffolk Mills.

Three Days Later

A traveling man one night found himself obliged to remain in a small town on account of a washout on the railroad caused by the heavy rain, which was still coming down in torrents. At supper he turned to the waitress with:

"This certainly looks like the flood."

"The what?"

"The flood. You've read about the Flood, and the Ark landing on Mount Ararat, surely."

"Gee, mister," she returned, " ain't seen a paper for three days."—Mead Cooperation.

Vermont Trip Is Disastrous For Textile

Lose to St. Michaels and Middlebury

Showing plainly the effects of a hard trip and playing far below her usual standard, Textile dropped two games—losing to St. Michaels 46-30 and losing to Middlebury 32-30.

In the St. Michaels' game the boys from Vermont jumped into the lead and held throughout the game. Textile failed to "click" and therefore never had a chance. As usual, Athanas was brilliant for the Textile crew—he scored 12 points.

Against Middlebury, Textile presented a revamped outfit with two substitutes starting—Johnny Bogacz and Paul Muller. Both played a sterling game and they will be seen more, of in the future. Middlebury presented a much faster team than St. Michaels, but Textile was more in form than against St. Michaels. Textile enjoyed a two point advantage one minute from the final end of the game, but could not hold it. Two long shoots by Baumgartner and Clonan of the Middlebury outfit spoiled Textile's chances

Freshman List

The following freshmen have passed all subjects for the first term of the present college year:

Wesley Elliot Bates, East Milton, Mass. (Huntington School).

George Georgacoulis, Lowell, Mass. (Lowell High School).

Emanuel Herman Hirsch, Weehawken, N. J. (Woodrow Wilson High School, Weehawken).

Benjamin Alexander Holgate, Lowell, Mass. (Lowell High School).

Lee Gale Johnston, Haverhill, Mass. (Haverhill High School).

John Raymond Gaiser, Bloomfield, N. J. (Bloomfield High School).

Moushey Markarian, Lowell, Mass. (Lowell High School).

James Reynolds Redmond, Lowell, Mass. (Lowell High School).

John James Rourke, Lowell, Mass. (Lowell High School).

Bernard James Tyler, Lowell, Mass. (Lowell High School).

Anthony Joseph Urbanetti, South Manchester, Conn. (Manchester High School).

Preston Sumner Valentine, Wayland, Mass. (Wayland High School).

Herbert Alvin Wormwood, Andover, Mass. (Punchard High School).

Robert Frederick Jesseu, Whitinsville, Mass. (Northbridge High School, Whitinsville).

TEXTILE WINS SECOND GAME ON SUCCESSIVE DAYS

Trims Panzer 41 to 27

Lowell Textile basketball team by successfully overcoming the challenge of the Panzer college five, evened up their games won and games lost column. Textile has now won six games and lost an equal amount .

The game with the Panzer outfit was an interesting game throughout. Textile jumped into the lead and was never headed throughout the game. Textile by virtue of 7-0 lead obtained in the first half, managed to lead the hard fighting team from Jersey way at the end of the first half by the score of 20 to 14.

The second half established beyond a doubt, the better of the two teams as Textile completely outplayed the Panzer boys.

G. M. Kidder Again Wins Rifle Shoot

The L. T. I. Rifle Club concluded its second Annual Rifle Tournament on Feb. 11. This tournament as well as the one held last year, was a complete success and demonstrated to a considerable extent, the large amount of interest that the students hold toward rifle shooting.

The tournament began on Monday, Feb. 6, and continued daily thruout the week. The events consisted of an All-School event, a non-club members event, and a Prize event. The two former were fired under the same conditions and consisted of five shots in each position: prone, off-hand and sitting. The Prize events consisted of three shots off-hand, a cash prize going to the winner in each ten-man squad. The re-entries in the above events were unlimited.

Shooting began in earnest on Monday. The prize events were usually run off during the lunch hour and the awards were made daily. Most of the other events were fired after the afternoon classes.

Glen M. Kidder, '34, took an early lead in the all-school event and successfully held it thruout the tournament, altho closely pressed at times by very keen competition, especially during the latter part of the match. Kidder's final score was 144 out of a possible 150 points. This was two points better than his winning score which took first place in last year's tournament.

Richard A. Hodgman, '36, won the second place in this event, with the very good score of 142 out of 150 points. This is Hodgman's first year at Textile, and, accordingly, his first try at the tournamcut. Hodgman gave Kidder a very spirited battle, right up to the last minute, but he was never quite able to obtain the lead, however. His attempt to win, nevertheless, was a notable feature of the match.

Leon E. Moody, '34, won third place with a score of 134 out of 150 points. Moody, incidentally, also won third place in last year's tournamcut.

The non-club members match also proved to be very interesting. There was very close competition among the first few leading contestants, and as result, the lead changed hands several times during the tournament. This event was finally won by Herbert A. Wormwood, '36, who, on the final day of the match, advanced from fourth place up to first place, displacing Robert M. Kennedy, '35. Wormwood's final score was 121 out of

PINK ISSUE COMING!!

The annual Pink Issue of the Text will appear on March 21. Since we want to make this one better than ever, everybody is invited to contribute stories, jokes, and anything else which they believe should be printed. All material must be in the hands of the Editor by Tuesday, March 14, 1933. Come on fellow, get busy! Don't put it off until the last minute, but get your stories started at once. This is your issue, so don't fail to do your part. Let's have a "hang-up" good Pink Issue!!!

Lowell Textile Takes Springfield; Score Is 33-32

Big Upset in Collegiate Circles

Great is the rejoicing that lies in all loyal Textile rooters' hearts because on Friday, February 17, at the Textile Gymnasium, the Red and Black did what was considerod impossible by beating Springfield College. The final score (33 to 32) indicates the closeness of a battle which was repleto with thrills and action.

Truly, Southwick Hall was no place for anybody with a weak heart—as the excitement and din was terrific First one team and then the other would jump into the lead. When it appeared as if Textile had a comfortable lead, Springfield would put on a spectacular rally and overhauled our boys.

Springfield started off as if to put the game on ice as they scored seven points before Textile scored one point. However, Textile put on a spurt and enjoyed a slight lead at the end of the half.

The second half was even more exciting than the first as the teams "came down the home stretch" neck-in-neck. Two minutes before the end Textile enjoyed a six-point lead—whereupon Springfield put on a spurt that almost overtook Yarnall's crew. Fine defensive work at this point saved the situation and the gun went off with the result as has been indicated.

Are You Doing Your Own Work?

Doesn't it seem disgusting to see so many students who are consistently depending upon others to do their thinking for them? Mental laziness is one of the traits we try to overcome by going to school and yet many fail to remember this. It is their habit to go to a show, dance or party during the evening and then come to school the next morning in time to copy their assignments. We are not condemning those who try the lesson and then because of some small point which they do not understand, come to school early to ask someone for help. They should, in part, be complimented upon their stick-to-it-iveness and not be condemned because of copying. But we are accusing those who, instead of going to the instructor for help, take the easiest course and copy down the whole lesson. Any half-wit can copy—yes, even babies are able to copy figures and letters. Some of the students even go further—they depend upon their neighbor's paper during written class quizzes. Fellows, it must be stopped! You're simply preparing the rope by which you'll hang yourself. Don't think that you're "putting something over" on the professors because you're not. They fail to say anything or make trouble because it is a very serious offence. They are sincerely hoping that you will come to life and stop the underhand business. Don't fail them. Start in at once and turn over a new leaf. It is hoped by everyone that sooner or later every student will do his own work, thereby assuring himself of the benefits of a college education.

The Day and the Work

Edwin Markham

To each man is given a day and his work for the day,
And once and no more he is given to travel this way;
It's woe unto him if he flies from his task, whatever the odds;
For his task is appointed to him on the scroll of the gods.

There is waiting a work where only his hands can avail;
And so, if he falters, a chord in the music will fail;
He may laugh at the sky, he may play for an hour in the sun,
But he dare not go hence till the labor appointed is done.

To each man is given a marble to carve for the wall;
A stone that is needed to heighten the beauty of all;
And only the soul has the magic to give it the grace;
And only his hands have the cunning to put it in place.

Yes, there is waiting a work for each man no other can do;
So your errand is waiting; it has waited for ages for you,
And now you are come, and the hushed are turning their gaze
To see what you do with your chance in the chamber of days.

Foolish Questions

What is a reed?
Prof. Hoellerich.

Dear Prof.
Its a Musical instrument.
Signed Heeza Fakir.

Dear Heeza.
Can you give me any rules for a freshman to follow on attending formals.
Signed, Hooey.

Dear Hooey,
Yes, pass this advice onto your brethren.
Rule 1. Never buy a ticket in advance. The ticket committee usually gets stuck with some and gives them away.
Rule 2. Always wait until the morning before the prom to invite your girl. The girl of today likes to be taken by surprise.
Rule 3. Explain to the young lady that expenses are Dutch Treat. Being a supporter of equal rights, she will be glad to share half the expense.
Rule 4. Don't hire a taxi; use the street car. She'll have a better chance to show off her evening clothes.
Rule 5. Don't shave. Women like the rough and ready caveman type.
Rule 6. If you can't borrow a tux. wear a pair of corduroy pants and a khaki shirt. You will create more of a sensation than if you wore a tux.
Rule 7. Don't take any chances of falling on the polished floor and breaking your flask.
Your welcome my boy,
Heeza Fakir.

Dear Heeza,
Can you imagine any one going to bed with his shoes on?
Signed, Apollo.

Dear Apollo,
Yes, my horse does.
Signed, Heeza.

WIT and NIT

Jonathan Honkers, '00 was noted for his lack of intelligence. He spent two weeks cutting down the shade trees in his yard after his wife told him she wanted a little son.

Among the sales recorded at the Sportsman's Show was that of an African leopard. Perhaps someone wanted an especially good mouser.

Moreno—"Certainly is cold. It's down to zero!"
Robinson—"Huh, that's nothing."
Moreno—"What's nothing?"
Robinson—"Zero."

The Question Box

Questions Sent to Professor Cow or the Editor Will Be Answered in This Column.

Can a whale drown?
Answer—Yes, because it cannot breathe under water.

Which is the right bank of a river?
Answer—The one on your right hand when facing downstream.

What kind of wood is so heavy that it sinks in water?
Answer—Lignum-vitae.

What animal provides us with "mohair"?
Answer—The Angora goat.

What living American has received more medals and awards than any other private person in all history?
Answer—Charles A. Lindbergh.

Why does the sky appear blue?
Answer—The particles of dust in the upper atmosphere reflect only the blue waves of light.

SHODDY

"Pa, isn't a man who cracks rocks with a hammer a geologist?"
"Yes, my son, unless he's doing time at hard labor."

He—Have you heard that Blank had both of his legs cut off in a railway accident?
She—What a shame! He danced so beautifully.

Heeza Fakir—You are about to be discovered by a big movie producer and will soon be a star.
Dumb Dora—But that's what you told my girl friend.
Heeza Fakir—I can't help it. You girls won't be satisfied with anything nowadays.

Prof. Cushing says that in the human race the butcher holds the steaks.

Alcott says that girls who wear cotton stockings are either over-confident or don't give a darn.

The guinea pig is no shark at long division, but it is said that he multiplies very rapidly.

1936 Column

A basket ball game between the freshman engineers and chemists has been tentatively arranged for an early date. The engineers feel all steamed up and promise a lively battle. No doubt the chemists are out to scalp the engineers.

It is with regret that we witness the withdrawal of George Darling. While he was here as a student he gained the friendship of all. We extend our best wishes to him in his ventures in life.

Lincoln and Bates are believers in chivalry. On a recent Thursday morning they interrupted their journey to repair a tire for some "femmes" from Teachers College. Both agreed that the school is deserving of notice.

According to reports Rudy Vallee is having a dangerous rival in the person of Markarian. He recently entertained a local country club, where he was given a thunderous ovation. Our silver voiced tenor will consider all attractive offers.

Athanas is priding himself on his luxuriant facial growth. Having heard that college men of the '90's wore flowing beards Louis is out to revive the lost art.

The Organic lectures offer something in the way of diversion. A little different so as to speak. One has said, "They are as clear as mud, but that covers the ground." If that is so we at least hope to muddle through.

Practically all of the class of '36 have pledged their support to Upstream Day. Let us make it 100%. Also follow through and on that day let all be present. Do not pledge your support and then forget about it.

The theme song of the O Pi initiates should have been "Am I Blue." However the inquisition is now past history and the lyric has been changed to "Just Whistle and Scrub Your Blues Away."

After a "short" five weeks we again find ourselves confronted with a five week exam. Let us strive to better our records of the first term and get off to a flying start.

The Cut Sheet

(With Apologies to the Registrar)

Well, fellows, after listening to Murphy, the super-photographer, talk about his pictures, I decided to sharpen up the axe and get busy. If Murphy wants some pictures he should come around with yours truly for a while. The Text won't print all that I could get. So here goes for the results of the axe grinding.

Mr. Edlund was in his prime as the representative of the faculty at the Kiwanis Ball of Feb. 8. However, if you wish to see "Charlie" as a real he-man, drop down to the Y. M. C. A. business men's class. "Charlie" is the mainstay of a volley ball team but he won't pass the ball to anyone else. . . . "Bobbie" Henderson, O Pi's answer to a maidea's prayer, didn't show in the other morning until 3:00 A. M. What "Bugs" said to him has been censored. . . . On behalf of the Text staff, I wish to extead a royal welcome to "Joe" Burke's only rival—the oae and only—"Red" Leary. I still bet that "Joe" caa't be beat at "Red Dog," Leary. . . . It is my motto to give credit where credit is due consequently I must mention that Freddie Diehl had a woman on each arm in Kearney Square the night of the O Pi initiation. . . . And who, fellows, is the junior chemist who is heart-broken because he is in love with two women and does not know which he loves the best? . . . LeBel, the self-termed speed demon, must have been blinded by "Rusty's" dust on the Vermont trip. "Rusty" beat him into Rutland by an hour and a half. . . . What kind of a woman was "Bill" Wynn out with when he caught a cold going to the Recreation Ballroom last week. . . . Why don't you drive and give "Cab" Penney a break, Schoelzel? You've had a girl on your lap on all the trips since the cold weather arrived. . . . If any of the students appeared stiff on the morning of February 16, it was not from visiting Moody St. but from attempting to roller skate at Crescent Rink.

Do you know:—"Smithy" actually got 80 in a P. Chem. quiz? Graham had better watch out. . . . Alcott and Beattie have devised a method in which they are able to get all their studying done by 7:00 o'clock and then they are free to spend the rest of the evening with their ladies fair? . . . "Dot" Bliss, our former co-ed, still waits for "Freddie" Cogswell to pick her up? Have you asked her to the Tech show yet, Freddie? . . . Morrison has been cut down to three nights a week at his girl's house because he flunked P. Chem. so now he finds it necessary to take her tobogganing on Sunday afternoon? . . . Leslie has been paying for things lately? Evidently the law of demand and supply has put a price on things in Saugus, n'est-ce pas, Les? . . . Baron had to refresh himself after making that speech at the last assembly by drinking a whole quart (of milk)? . . . Turcotte made a hurried trip to Concord during the noon hour of Feb. 8?

I know that "Bill" Wynn, "Joe" Burke, "Bob" Thomas and "Red" Sullivan each received a comic valentine from the same party but whoever can prove who that party is, can have this job for he's better at getting the dirt then I am. . . . If you attended the C. M. T. C. party, read about yourself in this column in the next issue.

G. M. KIDDER AGAIN WINS L. T. I. ANNUAL RIFLE TOURNAMENT

150 points; he also is a member of the Freshman class. Kennedy's final score was 117 out of 150 points, and his score took second place, two points ahead of Evan H. Fairbanks, 35, who was the second place winner of the non-club members match last year.

The two first place winners in the above events will he awarded silver medals, appropriately engraved with their names, winning scores, and the date. The two second place winners in the above events will be awarded bronze medals, engraved as above. Kidder, as a result of winning the all-school event, will also be awarded the custody, for one year, of the Founder's Trophy, a large silver loving cup, which is to be awarded annually to the winner of that year's tournameat. This is the first year that a cup has been awarded the winner of a tournament, and this was made available only thru the generosity and interest of the founders of the Rifle Club. The cup has been on exhibition, during the week of the tournameat, in the display window of the "Coop", thru the courtesy of the Co-operative Society Store.

It is iaterestiag to note that of the four winners, in these event, two are Freshmen, and only one of the four, Kidder, won a place in last year's tournament.

On behalf of the Rifle Club, the Tournament Committee wishes to thank those who in aay way helped or contributed, to the success of the 1933 Annual Tournameat.

The Textile Rifle team has a very busy schedule for the next few weeks. During the week following the tournament, Feb. 13-20, two postal matches will be fired—one a return match with Trinity College, and one with the University of Vermont. The following week, the Textile team will fire a postal match against the Conn. Agricultural College, and a shoulder-to-shoulder match, probably at Lowell, with the University of New Hampshire. It is expected that the latter two teams, especially, will preseat strong opposition.

A schedule of the matches arrangod up to date follows:

Feb. 13-18—Trinity College—Postal.
Feb. 13-18—University of Vermont—Postal.
Feb. 20-25—Conn. Agricultural College—Postal.
Feb. 24—University of New Hampshire—Shoulder-to-shoulder, at Lowell.
Mar. 3—University of New Hampshire—Shoulder-to-shoulder, at Durham.
Mar. 10—Wentworth Institute—Shoulder-to-shoulder, at Boston.
Mar. 22—Northeastern University—Shoulder-to-shoulder, at Lowell.

Executive Council Meeting

A regular meeting of the Executive Council was held on February 13, in room 367. It was decided to have Upstream Day on Wednesday, May 3, and also the price of tickets $2.25. A club plan is to be used more extensively this year, in order to allow the students to pay by the installment plan if they so desire. It was suggested to have the payments arranged so that 50 cents can be paid each month, with the balance due on the day of the event. In order to facilitate this method of payments, two collectors were chosen from each class. They are: Senior, Gainer and Kokoska; Junior, Fox and Morrison; Sophomores, Sullivan and Dale; Freshman, Muller and B. Tyler.

The council voted to award a letter to H. Schoelzel, '35, for his untiring and loyal work as our cheer leader

Spicy leaves of turkish tobacco are strung to dry and cure in the sun.

Well, that's something about cigarettes I never knew before

I'd never thought much about what's inside a Chesterfield cigarette. But I have just been reading something that made me think about it.

Just think of this, some of the tobacco in Chesterfield—the Turkish—comes from 4000 miles away! And before it is shipped every single leaf is packed by hand. All because Turkish tobacco is so small and delicate.

Of course I don't know much about making cigarettes, but I do know this—that Chesterfields are milder and have a very pleasing aroma and taste. They satisfy—and that's what counts with me!

the cigarette that's Milder

FRATERNITIES

PHI PSI

"Sleeping Beauty" slept for a hundred years because of her association with a spindle. This makes the record of Morse and Brown of six and three quarters run yarn look rather small.

* * *

Connolly has passed his final test and is now a full-fledged "Kahitzer" privileged to buy over someone else's discards; or to say, "I told you so," when a contract is not fulfilled.

* * *

Garbutt must stop using railroad terms when talking about his girl. The rest of the boys can't understand.

* * *

Doyle was forced to put on boxing gloves to prove Patrick Henry's dictum. Doyle lost.

* * *

Babigan and Pizzuto entertained at the last pop-corn meeting with "We Can Remember When—"

* * *

Dempsey has sout his picture to Hollywood. We wonder how long he will be able to resist their offer when it comes. Ronald Colman had better look to his laurels as Dempsey can grow a moustache in a pinch.

* * *

Any day now we expect to see Diehl inflict another wound so he can go over to St. John's Hospital.

* * *

Hallissy says, "It's fun to be fooled, but I just can't pick on the Chemistry Department."

* * *

Little Fritzie Diehl epends the whole conference hour trying to ceax his car to start, singing "On How I Need Thee" and "If I Only Had a New Five Cent Piece," "I Owe, I Owe Everyone."

* * *

The glorious moon of the past four nights brings the gypsy out in Hallissy. He's even gone so far as to learn all of the "Moon Songs."

* * *

Blood, blood everywhere. Has a murder been committed? What is the meaning of it and whose blood can it be? Then in walks Fred Diehl with his hand in a sling. We will now have the truth about the blood. Fred, how did you hurt your hand? "Well, it was like this. I entered the bathroom this morning to wash. The wash bowl not being in a friendly frame of mind took it out on me. It just up and took a bit out of my left hand. The wash bowl has been taken in hand by our house manager and the biting days of the wash bowl are over. Please don't ask Fred how he hurt his hand. He is really a darn good fellow.

If Brother Dempsey does not let Brother Morse win a billiard game soon he will have to eat his meals on the fly. Before he can finish his meals the challenge comes from the billiard room. Well, Brother Morse is a fighting man. He knows the odds are against him. You see, Brother Dempsey beats Brother Morse through his skill of the game and if his skill is not so good he just talks him right out of the game. So far there has been no broken bones or hard feeling over their games, may they forever remain this way.

* * *

The stillness of the night is broken and the peaceful slumber of Brother Hallissy is broken by some one jumping into his bed. Being a very modest gentleman, Brother Hallissy quickly investigates to find out who the intruder is. Upon his inquiries he is told to keep quiet by Brother Doyle, as he is playing a game with Brother Heffernan. You know the game where one hides and the other tries to find you. We don't mind your being kids again but please don't take to playing in the early hours of the morning.

Brother Al Atkineon of '32 dropped in to see us. We understand he has been traveling of late. He visited Stafford Springs and tried to locate Ken Doyle, but no one knew of him. We wonder if Ken really does live in Stafford.

If a certain suit coat is found in the sophomore picture and the Phi Psi fraternity picture it is the same coat, but on two different fellows. Thanks again for the use of the coat, Brother Recher.

DELTA KAPPA PHI

Jurevicz recently got a hair cut but the dumb barber forgot to shave the dirt off his upper lip.

* * *

An enlarged picture of Morrison and his red head has been seen around school lately. Rather careless of you, Rollie.

* * *

Will somebody drop Murphy's sombrero in a pail of caustic soda.

* * *

"Joe" Burke met an old flame up at Middlebury while he was on the Vermont trip. "Joe" seems to have a calling list wherever he goes.

* * *

Is it true that Bukala is going to bring the wife to the pre-Lenten party?

* * *

Congratulations: Anthony, Dion, Markarian and Rearke.

* * *

Don't forget the pre-Lenten party on Monday, February 27, brethers.

* * *

Murphy says there is no such a thing as jealousy. In fact, Murphy says that it is O. K. with him if his wife does go out with other men. Now all we have to do is to find out who Murphy's wife is.

* * *

"Scut" Curtin is to be congratulated for sinking that winning point against O Pi.

* * *

Jurewicz has been disgracing the fraternity with that freak mustache of his. Let's get that scrime who claims to be a harber to shave it off.

* * *

Brother Birtwell recently stood Aune up on a date.

TEXTILE GRADUATE PROVIDES RECREATION CENTRE FOR BOYS

Norman B. Reed of the Lowell Mills Co., located in what was formerly the Shaw Stocking Co. plant, is playing a role these days which meets with the strong approval of the young people in the Chelmsford and Nottingham streets section of the city.

Some time ago, Mr. Reed granted Troop 15, Boy Scouts, directed by Harry Jerome, the use of about 6000 feet of floor space in one of his buildings, for meetings and to play games.

The news that the scouts were using the quarters for their meetings circulated rapidly among the boys of the section. A short time after this, Mr. Reed received a call from a delegation of young boys between the ages of 10 and 14 years who gather about the corner on which his mill is located. They asked that they be permitted to use the same quarters that the Boy Scouts use. They agreed to watch carefully and not damage any of the goods stored in the room and were granted their request.

With the Scouts and the "Corner Gang" using the quarters, it was but a short time before representatives of the Lincoln Rangers, a group of young men or older boys, asked Mr. Reed that they be accorded the same privileges. The same rules and regulations were agreed upon and they now enjoy the use of the rooms three or four hours every afternoon.

Mr. Reed has had ample proof that the boys appreciate his kindness in providing their quarters for them, for they always prepare to leave the minute that the machines on the floor overhead are shut down for the night. He has found them sweeping up the place and otherwise caring for it. The Boy Scouts have baskets for basketball in place and the other groups avail themselves of the privilege of using them and provide their own basketballs. Many hotly contested games are held there each week.

Mr. Reed believes that not only is he doing something for the benefit of the boys and young men who use the quarters, but he also believes that any thoughts of mischief which might result in broken windows or other damage to the building are completely outshadowed by the appreciation of the boys for his kindness.—Lowell Courier-Citizen.

(Mr. Reed was graduated from Textile with the class of 1910. He is a member of Phi Psi Fraternity.—Ed.)

TEXTILE DEFEATS SPRINGFIELD

Bogacz for Textile played sensationally as time after time he stokked the Springfield team. His defensive work was marvelous to behold. Savard, Muller, Kokoska, Baranowski, Athanas, Sullivan and Jarek also played no small part in Textile's sensational victory.

The summary:

SIGMA OMEGA PSI

"Ahie" Berg, the old maestro, is a wizard on the telephone. It seems that John's interests in a certain School Street mademeiselle will come to a head soon.

* * *

Now that winter is here we wish to ask Smitty to get a closed car. Riding in that rumble seat feels like sitting on a cake of ice at the North Pole. We wish Harold would do something about it.

* * *

Art Freeman was the only one at the house to receive a Valentine. The other boys must be getting old.

* * *

Mac Plovnick's fickleness in regards to women in causing quite a bit of comment among the Lowell lassies. Watch out, Mac, one of them swings a mean rolling pin.

* * *

"Peanut" Harwood has been stepping out lately. Someone new, Ralph?

* * *

Cy Shapiro says that he caught his finger in a machine the other day. That's his way of telling the story.

* * *

The well known Nashua triangle is now non-existant. It is now a square. Harwood hitting in again.

* * *

A new type of literature has sprung up at the house, since Dave Landau found a Ghost Story magazine. Some of the boys are having a creeping feeling along their scalps, but we don't think the stories are responsible for this. Leo Glekien's cockroaches have escaped.

* * *

Moe Liland has been getting absent minded of late. He says that this is an annual occurrence. Who is she Moe?

* * *

Bill Stein, will you kindly settle it once and for all. Is her name Gwendolyn or Ann?

* * *

Ray Cowan is getting effeminate. He plucks his eyebrows.

* * *

Eddie Grossman the all-around athlete champion at the house finally met with defeat. Cy Shapiro outbroadjumped him.

* * *

Landau has not been the same for the last two weeks, it must be the competition Bill Stein is giving him.

* * *

Art Freeman is suffering with blistered feet. We suggest that some basketball practice would be good for his feet.

* * *

Eddie Grossman got us into a pickle. How are we supposed to get to Nashua the 20th? Walk there? You are a hum fixer upper. Ralph Harwood, when asked how he was going to get there said, "You'll be surprised."

OMICRON PI

Well, we'll now open the little red book and see what the score is. What—Lauder didn't go to Wigglesworth St. this week—why not? Cut down on the argarol.

* * *

Leonard simply cannot take it. He gave evidence tother evening when accosted by one of the fairer sex. What kind of men do they have in Norwich (or are they men?).

* * *

Those that were not at the last game certainly missed a treat. There was a 15-piece band present which not only gave musical renditions but entertained the crowd as well. The uniforms, if they may be called such, were another source of enjoyment.

* * *

Roller skating is going to be the vogue at the house if present enthusiasm continues. We're going to have a hockey team and your correspondent is hooking games. Any team that cannot stand on skates will be given preference.

* * *

Some of us are wondering why Penney does not drive over noons any more. Is it because he wants to walk or to save the wear and tear on the vehicle. Several noons of late I have found it necessary to make this long walk and it just won't do.

* * *

Several of the alumni were back for initiation and they took a goodly hand in putting it over. The most artistic of them was "Spike" Birdsall as any of the pledgees will tell you. They're still removing traces of his work.

* * *

"Flash" Gasner must be breaking the hearts of several Kezar Falls women if Valentines are any indication. I wonder how it feels to be popular.

* * *

What was Alcott doing with a bundle of fresh rhubarb under his arm last Sunday nite? Also what would Mathews like to do with a squash in his arms? Ask them!

* * *

The two occupants of La Salle Moderne have been ultra careful during the past two weeks hence nothing has been unearthed as to their doings.

CHET'S CHAT

Already the freshmen are troubled by those two demon subjects—Mechanics and "Stoic". Well, freshmen, don't worry about the latter subject—it comes to you slowly at first—with some, it seems to come slowly always—as evidenced by the "Stoic Club". This club is increasing in the number of members every year. In fact, at present it has more members than the Rifle Club. Alcott has been re-elected president of the Stoic Club to serve another term.
